Our 4th cohort of interns have completed their first rotation in the Marriott Hotel, Heathrow and they have all reported that they enjoyed their first placement. Marriott staff have commented on how well the interns have fitted into their departments and how they have been working hard within their teams.

The interns have stepped up to the challenge of learning a variety of new skills and have enjoyed the responsibility of achieving Marriott standards while working alongside Marriott staff.

We would like to congratulate our interns on the successful completion of their first placement. They have a new level of self-confidence which they can now carry over to their next challenge, when they move on to their second department placement in January,

Transition Week Visit

At the end of each rotation, Interns complete Transition Week activities. They have typed a resignation letter, to complete their first cycle of employment and practiced their interview skills again, to prepare them for an interview with their next department manager. This week we also visited Decathlon, a sport store in Uxbridge. The Store Manager gave interns a tour of the business and talked about the tasks completed by staff in the retail industry.

Job Searching

Our interns have had a careers advice and guidance session to help them explore future employment options. In rotation 2 they will learn how to job search and will complete regular job searching sessions. Saimmah, our Job Developer will begin engaging with appropriate employers, so that our interns can be placed in businesses that are disability confident and supportive, when the time is right

Social Media

In September, we welcomed Helen, our new Job Coach onto the programme. Helen has set up a Facebook page and we would like to encourage interns past and present, to join. Only family members and Marriott staff will be accepted into the group, so it is a safe platform for our interns to communicate through. Follow us on Facebook: project-search marriott hotel heathrow and LinkedIn: Project SEARCH Marriott Hotel.

Merry Christmas!

Well done to all of our current interns, who have really shown what they can achieve over the past twelve weeks. A big thank you to everyone involved for making rotation 1 a success.

We return to work on Monday 6th January, 2020 and the Project SEARCH team would like to wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.
